About platform

Our Focus

At Loanledger, our mission is to make advanced investment technologies accessible, transparent, and profitable for everyone. We focus on three key areas: - AI-Powered Trading – Our proprietary artificial intelligence performs high-frequency arbitrage strategies across multiple cryptocurrency exchanges. It identifies opportunities in milliseconds and executes trades that would be impossible for human traders to catch.

Our Story

The story of Loanledger began back in 2020, when our founder and CEO, William Carter, brought together a team of professional traders and software engineers to explore how artificial intelligence could reshape modern investing. At that time, the company worked exclusively with large private investors and institutional partners, providing access to advanced trading technologies that were unavailable to the general public. For several years, our AI-driven trading systems and expert human traders proved their reliability in practice, generating consistent results and building trust among investors.

Investment cycle

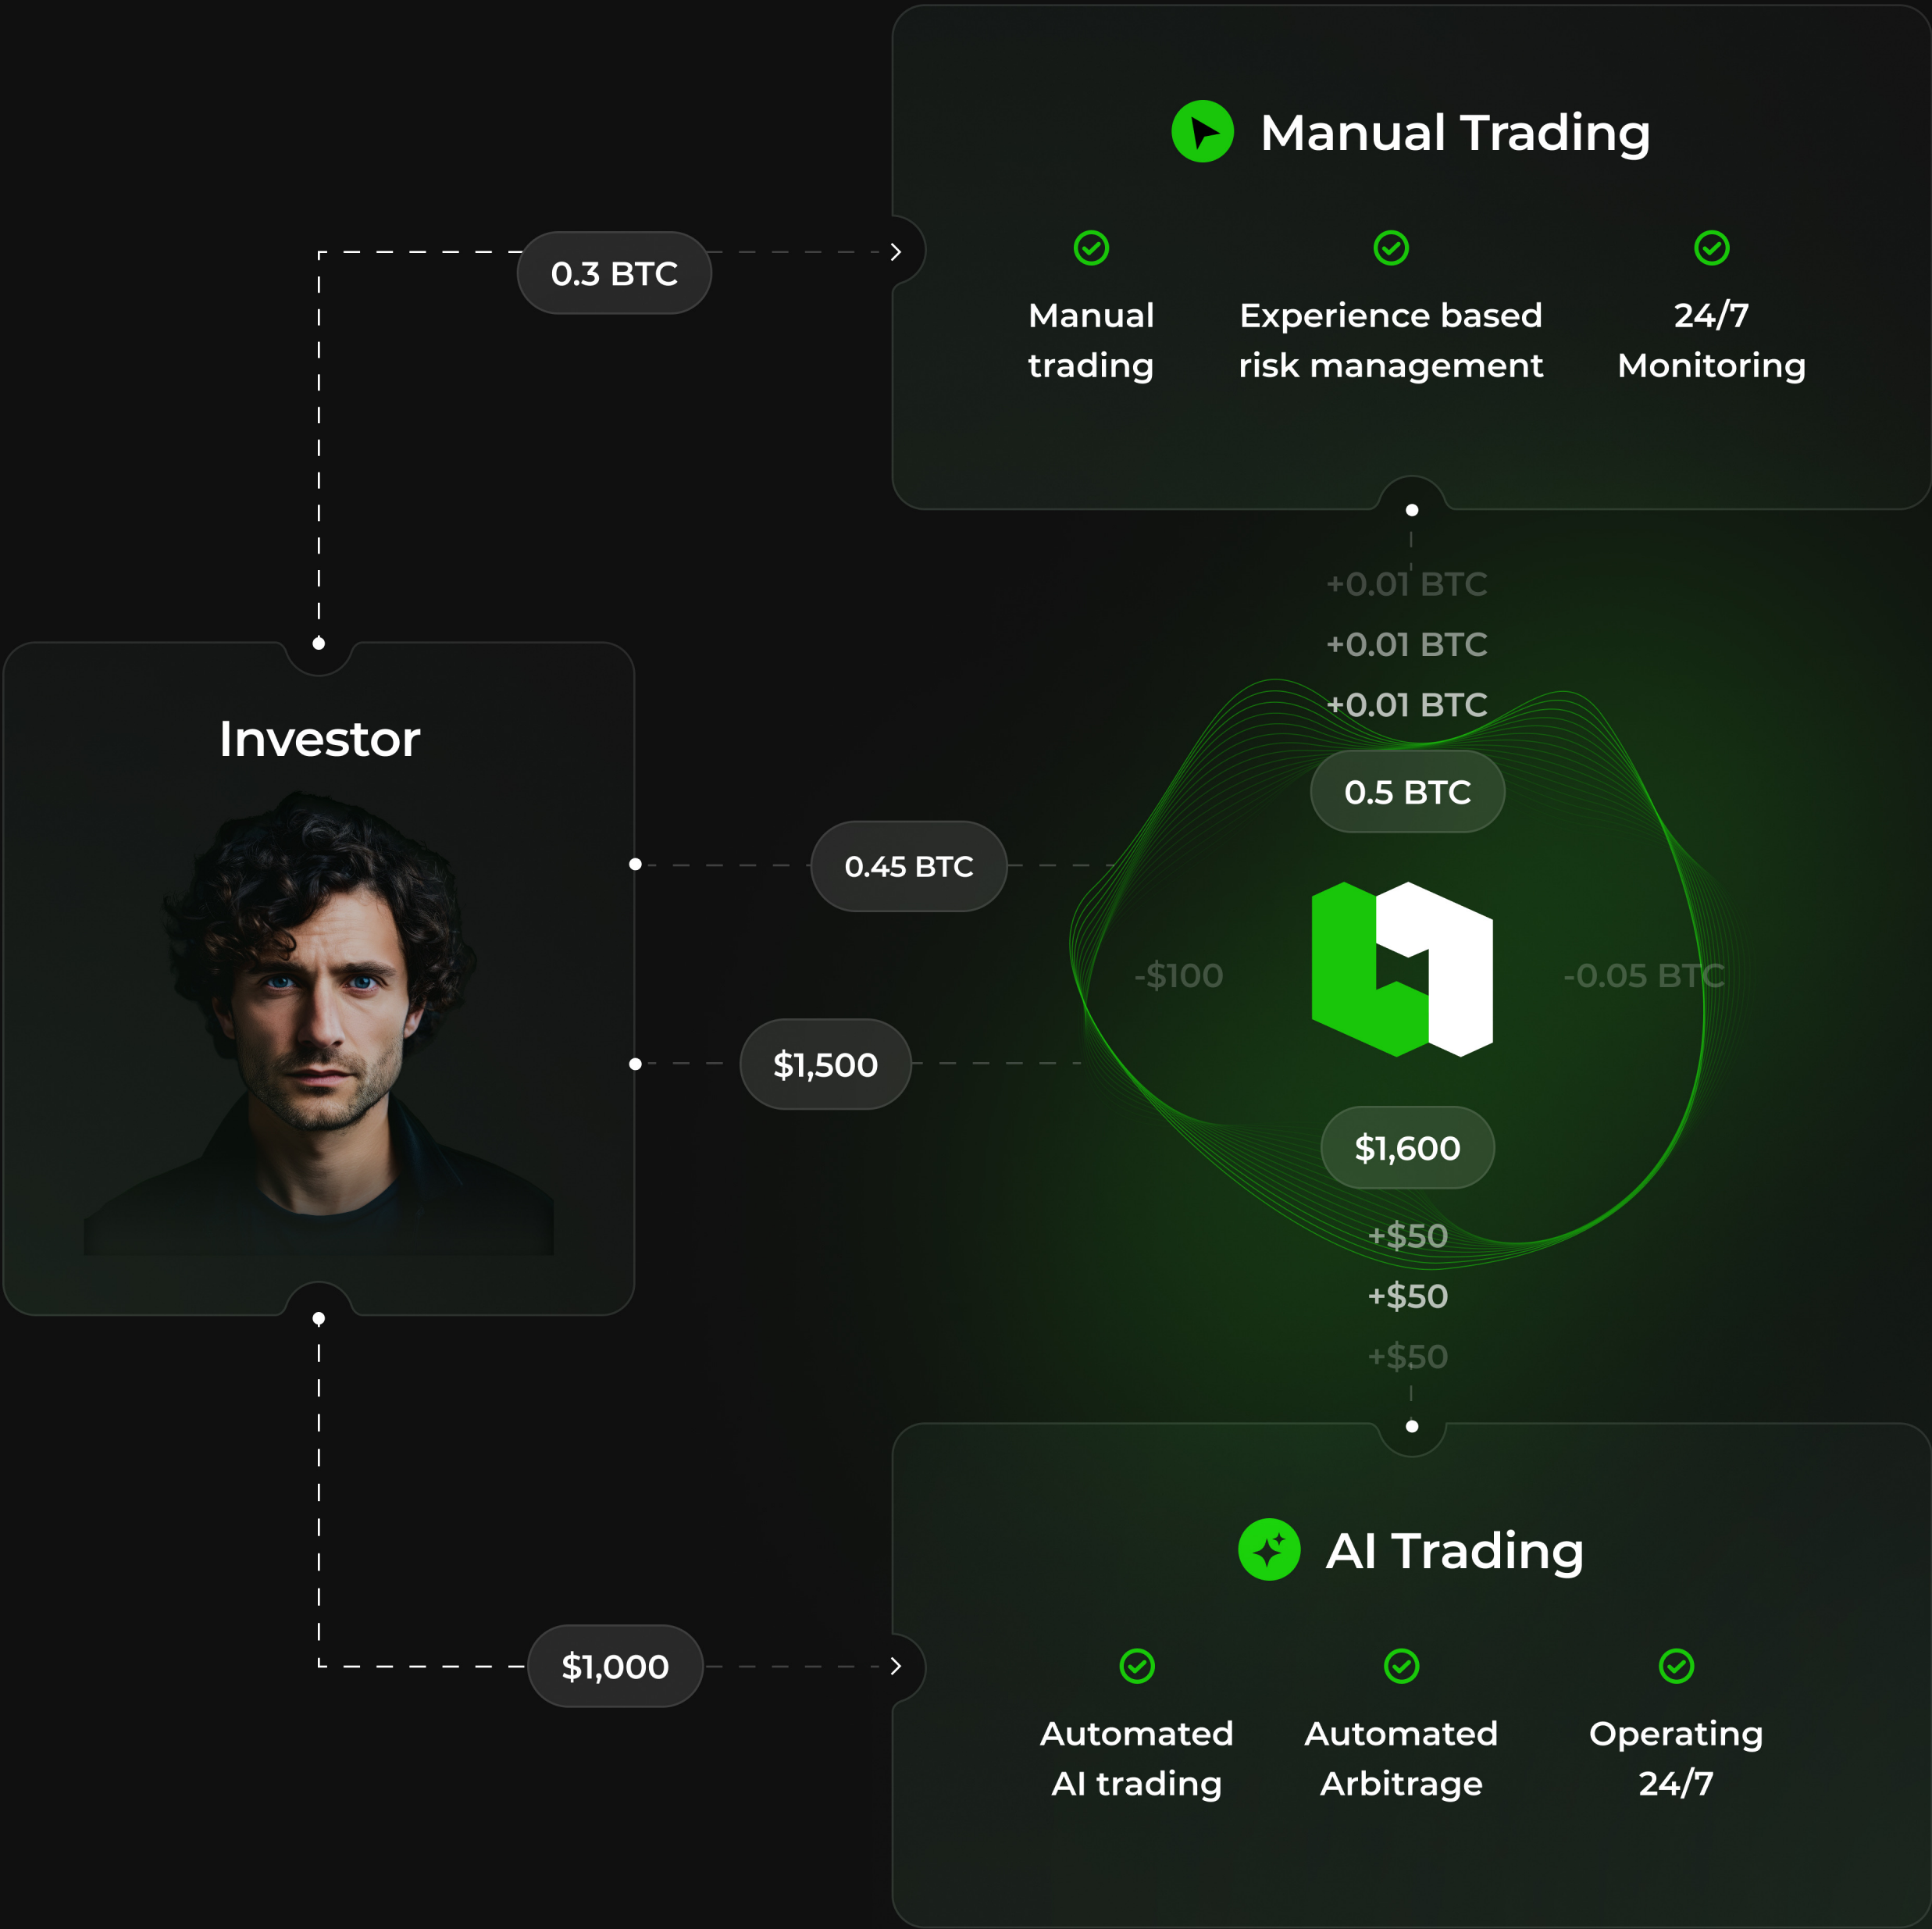

Learn how the investment process works with Loanledger. We offer two innovative methods of investing: AI and Manual Trading.

AI trading

AI Trading is a 24/7 automated cryptocurrency platform using AI for market forecasting, data analysis, and trade execution. It features automated investment management, crypto arbitrage, and risk regulation, aiming to optimize profitability and manage risk by analyzing trends and executing trades across multiple exchanges.

Manual trading

Manual cryptocurrency trading requires active management and strategic decision-making. Traders develop strategies, exploit arbitrage opportunities, monitor exchanges, and calculate profits. They execute trades quickly, manage risks with position limits and stop-loss orders, and refine strategies through post-trade analysis. Success relies on deep market knowledge and swift decision-making.

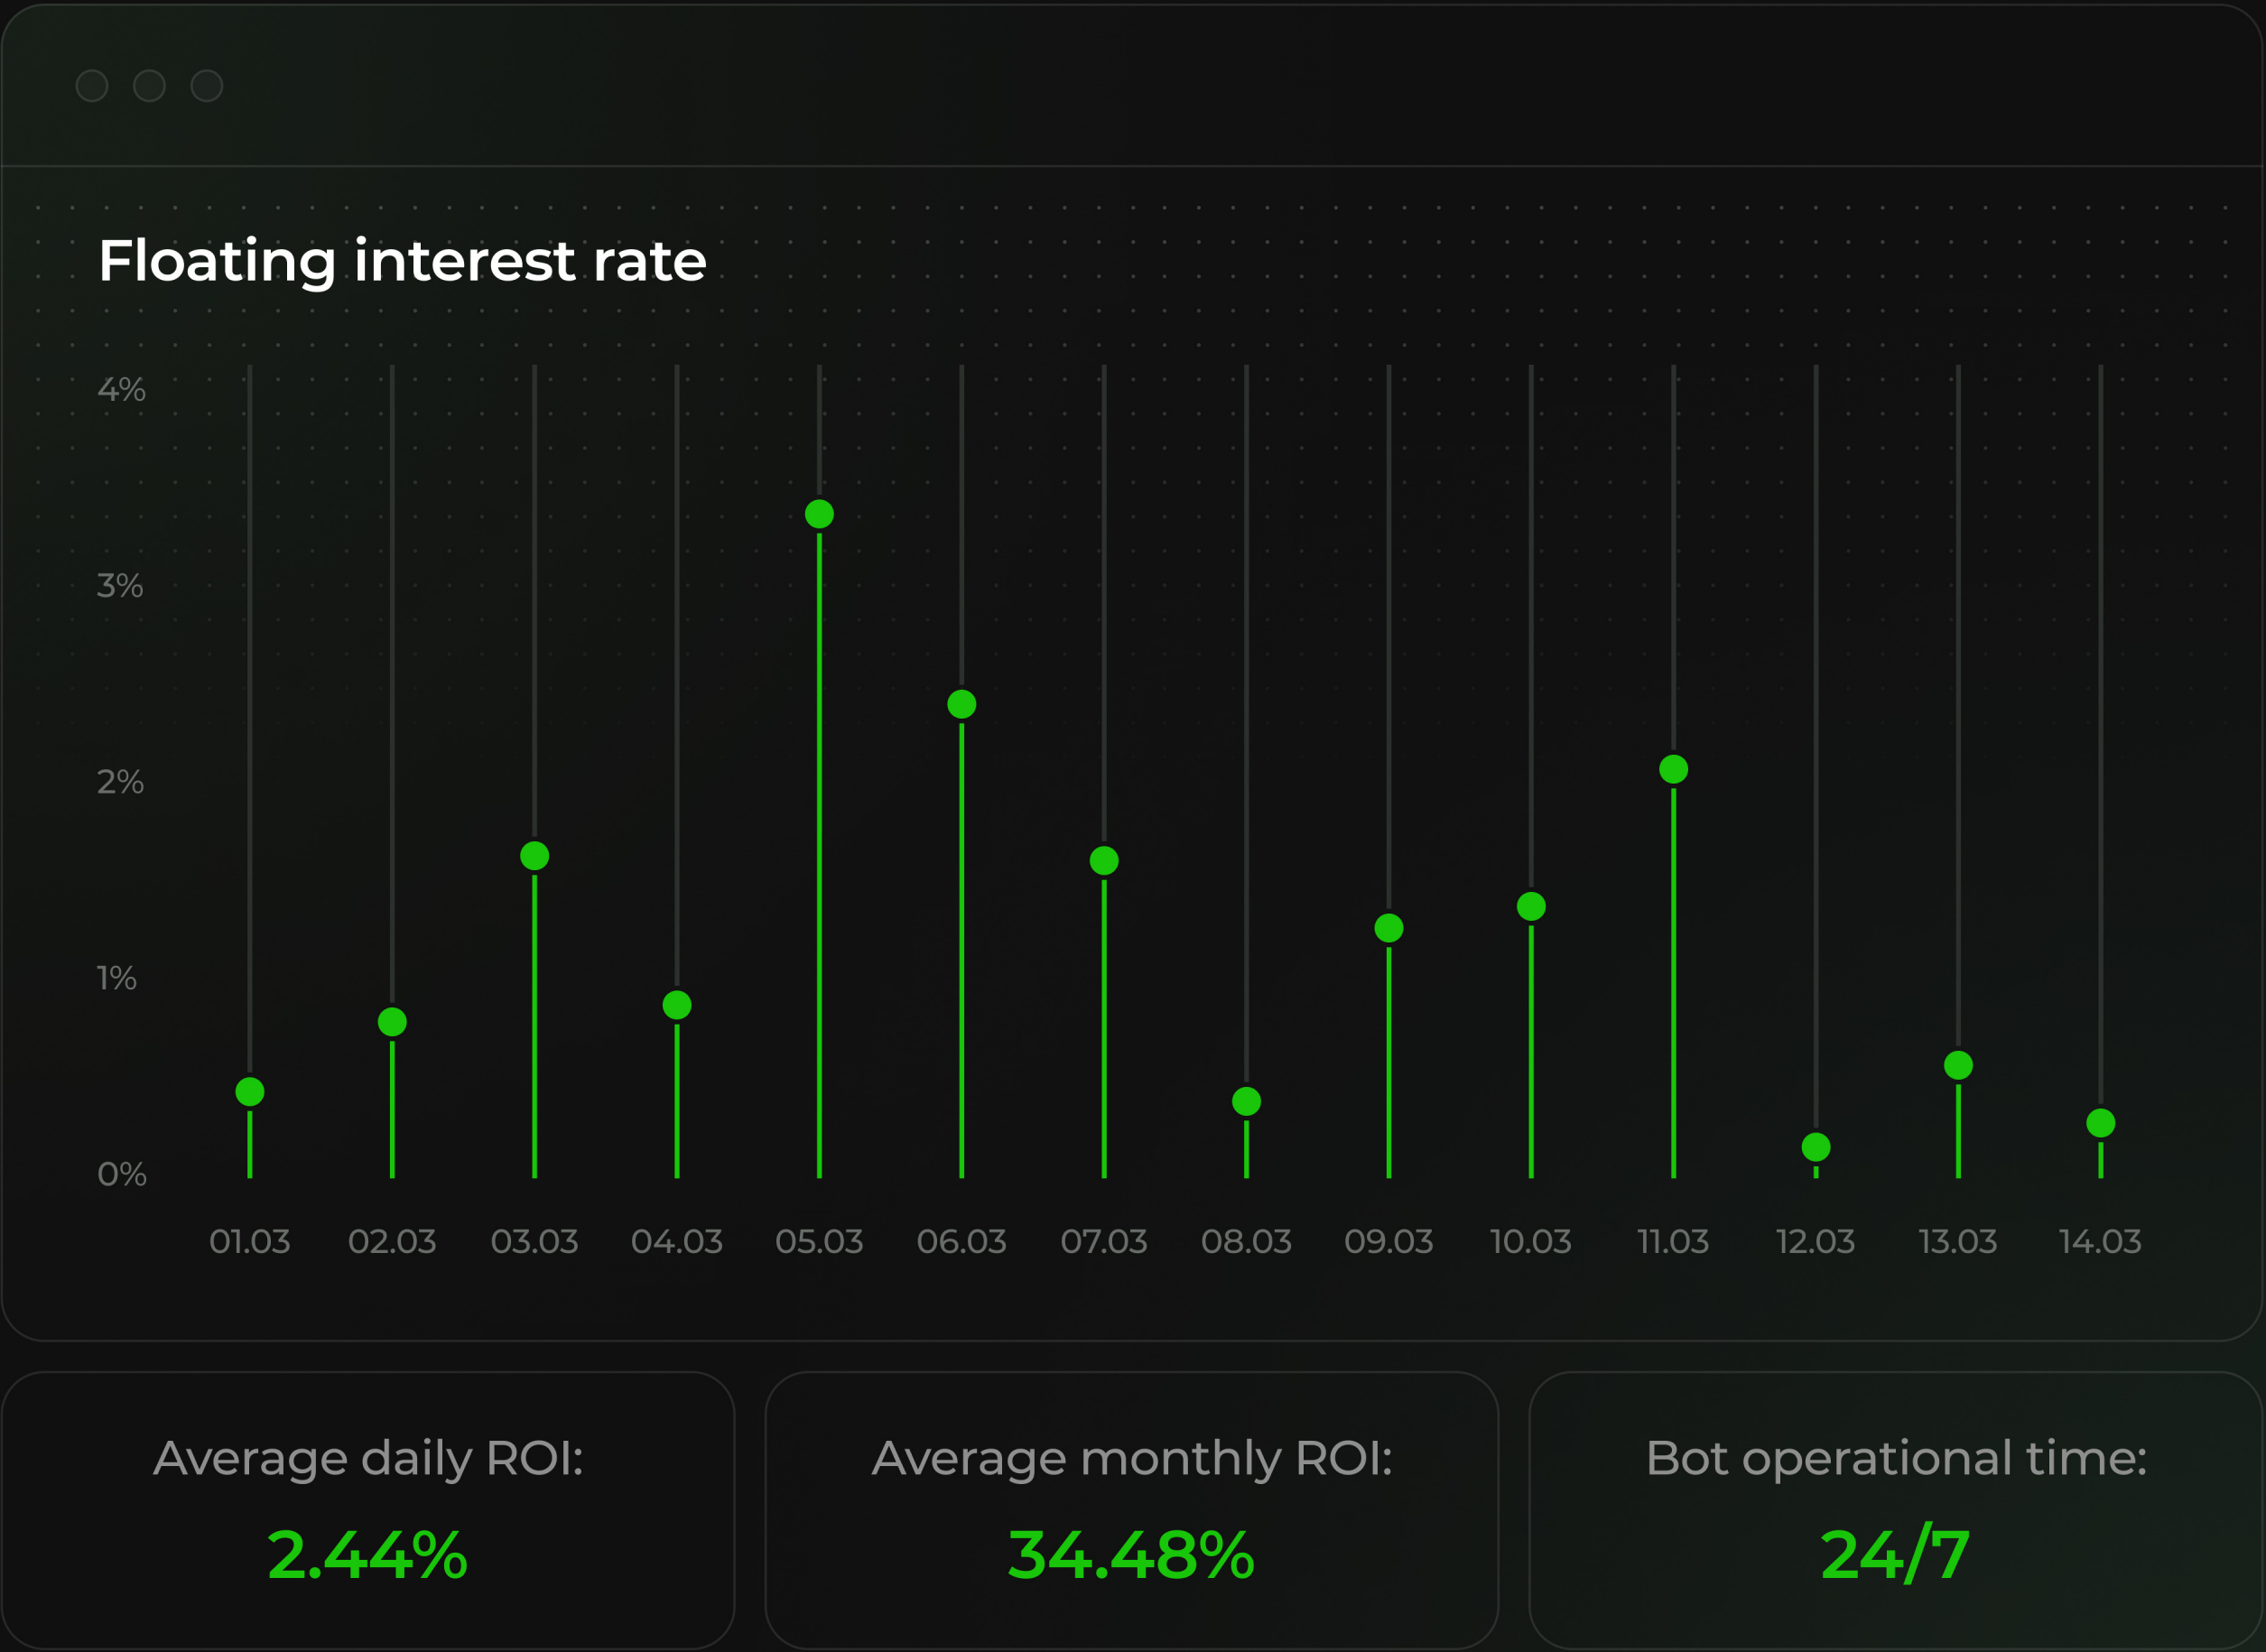

AI trading

AI trading offers a floating interest rate for the investor. Due to the 24/7 bot and floating interest rate, the returns are higher compared to Manual trading. Suitable for more experienced investors.

Ai trading investment specs
